DEDICATION

A dedication to all guardians of the state; appraised in the roles of; guardship, statesmanship and citizen's warriorship. This EBook is in dedication to the continual philosophical literature towards the art of security science, military philosophy and military arts, in the 21st century.

As it is necessary for the birth of the new revolution!

INTRODUCTION

Through the timeline of history, citizens have shown that the will of might and power can step in to declare order or chaos, as sees it fit, towards the continual lineage of a societal dominance for the birthing of a culture.

While the destruction of chaos and order sets the path to a security state, the state citizenry upholds the ever deserving creation within their own space; a level of security as grounds to conflict the state authority own mandate for totalitarianism security.

This literature identifies the useful need for a security state and the importance of its birthing at every millennium a corrupt state appears.

Corrupted by state oppressors or civility revolution, the solderism attempts citizens co creates are innate survivalism tactics, the chaos reign supreme that only the disdain rioters prepare as anarchism, separatism, sectarianism and revolutions, are the seen costs state authority continually defies as just controlled rulement being tested.

PART1:
STATE SOLDIERISM

TOPIC I- THE FORGING OF A SECURITY STATE

The forging of a security state ensures that a nation state steers into the direction of continued economic stability, control mechanism and population mobilization.

For all three forces represents their own building functions of growth, stability and economic viability within any territory. Once harness in its sufficiency; the potential end product users would be able to generate enormous wealth, to be a productive host to the world geo-political economies.

A symbiotic relationship designed only for the conformist's nations to allow survivalism of nation states, nation institutions and nation society to forge into new generational frontiers.

New frontiers bring about new uncertainty and new visions, foresaw by economical governmental bodies and new age millennium experts that normality, will interfere with the fabric of declinational economic order.

The disillusionment is non predictive when societal leaders, stakeholders and influencers become unresponsive to real changes by diplomacy and act towards the state that better can or should be done.

The actions of civility distorts many illusions of societal changes, creating a disillusioned state that the inevitable would not be near envisioned by alarmist populist and anarchist.

Combative society within a state society, which then makes up the world societies, continues to be divided over economic societies and the rule of law principles to division of economic power.

The classist principle of some against the others, the power elites against the subjectivist forces; disable any mechanism of free will to dissolve multi unequal wealth distribution.

Plagued by societal ills, the rule of chaos over a chaotic business cyclical of economic rules fuelled further the issue of security statehood and security state.

As members states are sanctioned to protect their own internal economic resources from depleting, destroying or terminating, their already scarce, unsellable economic resources and state identity from being extinct.

Further propelling a nation state into the fight or flight mode of anarchism, forged by unequal distribution of a visionless future or continued world identity.

Your right of protecting a non resourceful state and statehood designed by leaders must be controlled, in order to further be a resource to the world economies.

The forging of a security state, entrusted by all nation states is more preventive than reactive, as it must be constitutionally bounded, as all state resources are the responsibility of a nation states protection to all, while allowing further mechanism in the world economies.

As these fighting mechanisms continues to be ensued, the nation states becomes a solderist state of chosen, appointed or elected citizens, who becomes the guardians of their economies, protecting its assets from internal and external aggression, further enforcing a security state within a security authority.

These soldierist methods of appointments can dissuade the helms, that a unification of a state society is impossible and not all citizens, are free statehoods to do what they please.

As internal laws and rules prohibits the imaginative minds of citizens to act gallantry in times of internal aggression.

A conflict ideal perpetrates an economic state as broken, and feeds on the indulgences of the non resourceful citizens, who at times feel unproductive towards the economic economy.

The precision to fight back against antagonistic stateship-staterule and state inflictive power, becomes inevitable, as constitutions are placed on the fists of the anarchist, to punch a hole on the capitol of; law, justice and rule for all statehood and not a for any given few.

The security authority becomes swayed by state citizen's illusionistic goals, to create a state that are unrealistic towards the world economies, thus forcing the security soldierist appointees to push the aggressors into a more realistic frame of thinking, to benefit the story of economic stability, control mechanism and population mobilization.

*TOPIC 2- THE CITIZENS
SECURITY STATE*

The right to bear arms legally; the failing state apparatus; or a society in chaos, are just descriptions leading to debates or conditions, to satisfy what a citizens security state is or should represent.

The satisfaction on this grandeur- gratification, only merits if by law, citizens can address safety and security on their own terms. Terms which represent the legal statute to create their own measures outside the merit of a state authority.

Where territories, boundaries, sectors and districts rule on principle of offences and intended harm, a citizen can indulge in against another, which will result in action not legally binding by statute, the autonomy to be the executioner to the anarchist and the terrorizer within the state.

While they exist, the power of the protectionist police authority, it weighs the balance scale of jurisdictional justice over the personal aggrandizer's own protectionist ideology of survivalism in a society of chaos.

A society through their measures over time immemorial, have allocated increased budget towards many protectionist institutions, which buy in from social pressures, that the state institutions are failing to protect its citizens from anarchy.

Systematic violence from citizenry only perpetrates indoctrination unto weaker societal communities, to also indulge in communal destruction in eyesight of illusionistic state violence over its nation statehood.

By hindsight, the benevolence of this failing society is to create a failed state internally, which then enforce the state leaders to justify the external means of creating greater security state measures.

The continued struggles of state and statehood preclude the forging of alliances of international bodies, to rectify all disturbances of retributive societal ignorance.

Power struggles of the conformist and the non conformist creating their own citizens security state mechanism, designs a battlefield of unwanted goals and illogical sentiments for culture change and global mobilization.

The machinery behind the state apparatus dealing with societal differences further signifies that a citizen security state, for both conformist and reformist, is a task only few historical accounts have chastised as meritorious.

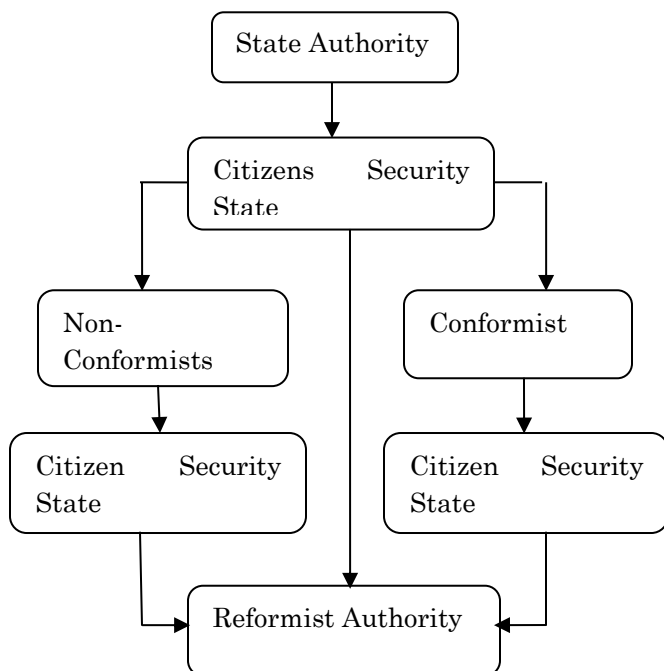

As a reformist authority ensures that monitoring of both ideals, of a conformist and non conformist, are both not detrimental to the states own design of their citizens security state framework, which purpose is to govern over all other ideological concepts.

As the reformist authority is build around the societal means conditioning of what a society expect out of the state conditioning over its citizenry.

For both conformist entities devise continued strategy to weigh their own, options of civility against the backdrop of the state own devised measure of perfectionism.

The diagram below explains that the citizen security state remains a divided one, as citizens find elusive ways to co create their own (non) conformist position under the state authority.

As such, the reformation authority acts as the below line mobilization, within the sectoralization bodies of the state authority; as their unification are metamorphic.

TOPIC 3- THE ANARCHIST STATE

The philosophical underpinnings to anarchism, delve with the unconscious minds of the citizen's inner desire for conflict. A conscience will, to inflict pain amongst inner citizenry own philosophical beliefs, to survive within a state authority.

Survivalism of state and statehood authority intertwines within each other, as a symbiotic whole, where its infusion encapsulates the very simplistic existence of nation states eternity.

An entity wishes to be a part of the world economies and to ensure its cultural manifestation is felt around the world.

The historical accounts of citizenry states must endure periods of conflicts. As conflicts ensures, order is established, to who the order dictums shall be between the victors of its conquest.

The state apparatus envisioned similar traits as the citizenry state, for anarchist theorem, ideology and machinery are all attempts to disperse confusion of state safety, especially where their exist multitudes of cultural historical differences and ideals emanating out of a state timeline.

The anarchist portrays a sense of power to act against intra-societal beliefs, that change is necessary and revolt is a nations blessing to cleanse the infertility of the corrupt descendants of chaos.

No matter the citizenry cries of pain and the many societal pressures a colonized state may suffer, ideals must preserve until all citizenry conflict hearts is one.

The many lost honors, codes, flags, identity, assurances and revolute anthems are reflective, to the struggle for an embodied identity.

Anarchism rights to futile survivability, rests on the ability of resolutions and deterministic attitudes, to develop a lost or dying culture of citizens.

As the remit to state longevity, state resiliency and state fertility continues to be tested by all factions of chaos.

The supreme ultimatum is to birth a new society of will and stride, to prepare for the ultimate tests of all millennium conquests, to improve the colonized world in many ways through conquest of chaos.

PART 2:
AFFIRMATIVE

TOPIC 4- THE MORALITY DILEMMA

The total subjugation to a security state rests on the citizen's innate desire, to create the best moralistic opportunity for future growth, regardless of the independent morals of intra cultural groups residing within a colonized society.

The dilemma may feel on the insecure populists, who only desire is to attain total dominancy over the security state agenda.

For the greater good for civility to reign supreme, independent of order and courting chaos, morality will be tested to its fullest strength against the populist divide, sacrificing the moral and ethical coding of the invigorating citizenry culture, only enraged the ever society essence, to become an entity it was destined to be.

The dilemma, a state authority must resign all its future attempts, to instill order over chaos by not intimidating a populist moral code, becomes blemished over time, when the rulement of statehood oversteps its boundaries by inflicting corrupt social norms dictating the powerless actors.

Actors of state authority, state statehood and state citizenry, are often conflicts of its own code to nation building.

The power elites of all three encircles their own enemies from within that citizenry rights, for their principles of survivability are not often practiced but often abandoned, only on the sake of non retributive orders, destined to allow good civility to prevail.

These abandonment of willful desires which are ceased on apprehension and fear, displays a cross cruelty that the three actors pretends is not a cause of anarchism.

The reactive agents to civil subordination to what is considered order in ratio and chaos, as its opposites, further fuel an imagination of impossible dilemma captured only by the rage of good governance.

The governing practice of the timeline of chaos and order are the reflective lens, the creators of new millennium history uses, as a pivot to denying morality; can be an inflictive disease to post statehood controls.

Controls structures destined only to improve the morality of citizenry future frontier, disillusioned-authoritative position to inflictive morality.

The cycle of infliction on all three reactive agents sole destiny, is to set a stage of combative battle amongst the victor of this continual war, to how necessary a security state can inflict the order of reign, over all other moralistic code.

TOPIC 5- TRIBALISM SYMBOLISM

Sapiens idolizes symbolism and adhere to its rituals on a daily call of reverences. Whether, this symbol shines out of cultural morality, spiritual incarnation or a mutated universal concept of adaptation.

Their adaptation to a higher power rests on all society understanding that, these cultural indulgences aids in their conquest to devour statehood and state.

Whether mystical or pure literature to conjure up an invisible identity to attach to an ideology, the energy perpetuates around the intent, to broadcast a will to endure which; the then society must adore.

As titans to all causes of justifying tribalism, the symbolic attempt is to key all account on the shoulders of the state authority, to defile the sacred grounds of stateship.

The vigilantism actions therefore mimic the societal indulgences, that their necessary actions merits the stateship symbolic society of conflicts, retributions and open courts without proper due process.

As conflicts states go through their period of tribalism, their symbolic nurture –nature call, dissuades the citizens, to any type of peace, once not appointed by the sector of chaos.

Birthing, the criminal intent entity, in a failed state or a republics state, in a relation to vigilantism from its citizens against state oppressors, victimizations, nepotisms, nihilism and cronyism; fortifiers a better logic of narcissism over empathy.

The survivalist ideology of preservation of life and freedom over death, against freedom, are the entirety truth, that the republican citizens rather none of the displayed truth but hope for a freedom from enslavement.

The criminal intent entity birthed by intra-groupings, found within the socio-patternistic society, finds rebellionism as a feeding zone to exploit all anarchist behavior, free from captured enslaved identity, and such intra-narcissism, formulates new identity of societal choices each citizen are awarded with via a constitution.

Regardless, if the suspension of a constitution denies any intra groups from formulating and wreaking havoc amongst citizenry, their illusionistic patternistic purge is to lay their own identity over any republic authority.

Their nature nurture concepts of cultural normality's, function on a state authority resources, to make efficient their goals to reform the non conformist, into resourceful products to a state apparatus. Useful enough that creativity in other fields would solidify having done a moral civic duty of statesmanship.

Their repealing of reactionary forces, assistance for a reassurance to civility; tribalism of a society has a history of innate grief, which many intra-groups infiltrate to antagonize the civility, to bestow their grievances to the state.

The two powers of authority within a government authority are the guardians of a state, followed by the watchers of the civility movement.

State soldierism encroached by vigilantism, terrorism, socialism or cultism-narcissism are all ideological behaviors of symbolism, to justify an identity for which can be most adaptable to their continual survival.

Citizenry has yet to discover which adaptable identity one can desire, to be an authority, as purging societies still feel the wrath of oppression from these two power authority.

TOPIC 6 -CULTISM-NARCISSM TO SOLDIERISM

The artistry of warfare; its design, its preparation, its charisma and identity are the types of necessary evil, each citizenry state must face, as long as the chaotic spirited society is in disarray, further from reality.

A historical realism examining all methods of serving a stateless people within a colonized nation, imagines the ever truth of cultism practices governing sectors of functionality.

A blinded republic that is very narcissist to its very existential citizens and loyalists makes idealist phenomena, look like appraisals—dominancy structures, each societal member envisioned as good governance.

To soldiers embattled by ideological machination of state; fighting for all causes deemed cultist in the sake of a republic, to soldiers battling social decadences of impunity, disguised as emphatic and ultra-utilitarianistic; are just mimics to a deeper ended flood gate of relativist- positivist.

Relativist- negativist actors are praised as heroes and are destined, to be great leaders to revolutionary causes of state destruction, state mobilization and state rebirthing.

Narcissist intra-groups, internal struggles for societal self-resurrection and reverences, devotes their entire revolution to a cultist-narcissist identity like most celebrities, adhere to total abdication and solicitation to one symbolic ideal.

The root cause of internal strife, towards power and persuasion; reasoning without dedication, and capturing the vulnerable in the web of the revolution.

The social army marching for a typical unified social issue formulates, to the guardians of the state that social reasoning has chosen to rear the indulgences of constitutional freedom and apprehension, to this unified march, will incur future dissonances of a security state.

As victor and victorless conquest to an identity crises sends shockwaves on the culture of a society, that propels reactive agents to chose which identity they prefer, the timeline to rebuild a shattered personality built for war, decreases in time as no solution to social balance is near.

A system of failing authorities non resourceful to the conquest, then targets the inhabitants will to survive on a cause of annihilation, mainly on predictive origins and the criminal intentive entity to extinct the illusion oppressors.
