EVERY BATTLE AS AN UPSTART

The background of the page is a photograph of a person's hands holding a black and red game controller. A smartphone is held in the other hand, positioned above the controller. To the left, there is a clear glass filled with a dark liquid, ice cubes, and a splash of yellow liquid. The entire scene is overlaid with a semi-transparent blue filter.

The Iris 03

Corporate Dust

Seeing future past; passed corporate structures caught in the wind of dismal and dust. Soaked with the horrors of stories from directors and stalwarts, destroying the corporate seal just in the name of global hierarchal targets.

Target aimed at a distance not coordinating strategic projection in determining if this target area is the most focused point an entire entity should focus to immobilize its opponents.

The war between corporate and corporation fuels the desire to win the title of tomorrow customers and intended clienteles who are so disinterested to be pawns to these warmonguls.

The sight on seeing destruction laid on the market place of countless battles of corporate giants and small despot bands of Collective Corporation, to offset the capacity of the singular giant is truly the desire of the capitalization of the scarcest and rarest element of business called it warrior monies.

Indeed looked upon as separating the weak from the strong but the emergence of new territorial growth, whether in interstellar coupling of colonies or improving stateless economies, the happenance is never forgotten.

Suppressive Fire

Pinned down with suppressive fire from state entities and monolithic government legacies frameworks, the true iris is always a birth out of destruction.

Businesses do die and reborn into a new competitive drive so do rebirth continues out of the existence of an old distributive force.

It continues unabated the dissolution of corporate structures to enhance all capabilities to strike for perfection within a forced element, where only the striking will of its mechanics will endure the long suffering to sacrificial matrimony only to the corporate seal and only to the wants it desires.

A commitment that excellence is not a word to be flunked around haphazardly but to admire its results when projects of world domination are fertile and the players become addicts to the hype of causality.

The gun fire is aimed continuously at the market competition to either dissolve their franchise into a segment unit of singularity or to abandon the mission of succession and personal domination.

Unless ignorant to the pit of damnation, an iris sight into the future can only be the most resolute solution to continue the warpath of excellence drive.

The Iris

The iris; the main course to understanding what customers may want and need to survive into the future.

As quickly it is seen abandoning all existing traits of minor excellence; can be separate, converted, transported or signaled onto another, placing all laser beam focus into the new frontier.

The fronterism is the only mechanism, mechanics and architects of the future the human race can exist.

As existence is crucial and important to further develop the race into a more complex species which can be limitless.

For it can only be done by fronterism and focus into the iris of dominion. Marching with and not without the army backed to support the effort of the new millennia.

For their importance is to ensure a balance between the ignorant source of human destruction which lies within the brain and the wiling heart of revolution and change for the evolution of the race.

The race for world balance can place all efforts to be prioritized and important than the existence plague humanity has created.
